This will be short and simple:
HELLO dammit, this is beyond belief of stupidity !!!!
As a Flight Attendant, I have to feel enough danger with terrorist threats, medical emergencies, company bullshit on a daily basis, and now I'm expected to field cell phone air rage ????????????
Hell, let's just let the terrorists be able to communicate with each other during a flight. What kind of idiots are even considering such a thing, my God.................
